Parcel Fabric - Lessons Learned*

CPD Session*

The advances that have been made in parcel management have culminated in the development of the ArcGIS Parcel Editing Solution (APES). This solution consists of a data model (parcel fabric), editing environment, tools (parcel editor) and workflows for editing parcels in the local government information model. There has been a lot of buzz over the past couple of years around this new environment and naturally a lot of learning pains. Fortunately we have taken on the tasks of understanding the ins and outs/dos and don'ts of this environment so you don't have to! This presentation will focus on an overview of the Parcel Fabric and how it fits into a modern land records implementation, our experiences/case studies with migrating data into the parcel fabric, editing workflows within the APES environment and tips and tricks we have picked up along the way to ensure that your experience within the APES will be smooth and efficient.

*Van O'Brien, Director of Solutions and Services

New 2016 ALTA/NSPS Standards*

CPD Session*

The 2011 Minimum Standard Detail Requirements for ALTA/ACSM Land Title Surveys have been revised and the new 2016 version – identified now as the ALTA/NSPS Standards - will become effective February 23, 2016. In this program, participants will be briefed on the process of revision and provided a copy of the new Standards. The most significant modifications for 2016 will be highlighted and explained in detail. The rest of the program will be spent in a review of the various research, field, drafting and certification requirements of the 2016 Standards, and of the twenty Table A requirements, some of which have been modified substantially.
